Grady & Chiles square off on TV

Dr. John Grady and incumbent Senator Lawton Chiles agreed on the future of the Cross Florida Barge Canal but disagreed on enough issues to keep their first televised debate lively and give hope of more of the same in their second debate Monday.

Grady and Chiles squared off Tuesday evening in a state-wide broadcast sponsored by the Florida Jaycees and the Florida League of Women Voters being telecast from Orlando. Their second debate will be telecast from Miami at 7 p.m. Monday.

Grady rapped the incumbent senator for his votes on defense spending, the Panama Canal and a balanced budget while declaring he favors an anti-abortion Constitutional Amendment and that the United States is lagging the Soviet Union militarily.

Grady also pooh-poohed the Federal Government in the Sunshine Law sponsored by Chiles as an election gimmick that doesn't apply to the Cabinet or to Congress.

Chiles counter-attacked with jibes at Grady's political party switches, claims Grady was misinformed on several of his votes in the Senate as well as the Sunshine Law and that Grady's promise to balance the budget isn't as simple as it seems.

On the Cross Florida Barge Canal, both candidates agreed they wouldn't favor completion without assurance its economic impact would make it worthwhile and that it wouldn't endanger the aquifer.

Disagreeing with Grady, Chiles said he is personally opposed to abortion on demand but he believes the states should retain the right to decide what restrictions should be placed on it.

Unemployment, Grady said, should be handled by private enterprise. "Government can't give us anything without taking something away first," he maintained. Chiles said he agrees with the goals of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill but disagrees with its methods.

Chiles said he "is nobody's boy" and that he feels the proper way government should control unemployment is to institute automatic controls which would go into effect when the national unemployment rate reaches approximately 7 per cent.

Chiles said Grady's promise to balance the budget by making across-the-board cuts in every department except defense would mean cuts of 16 per cent.

On Social Security, Grady said he would be in favor of supporting senior citizens by maintaining high Social Security payments and removing the condition that causes a recipient to lose funds if he has an outside income.

Chiles said that if Grady includes Social Security in his exceptions to budget cuts, that would mean another 4 per cent increase in cuts to be made in every other area, causing 20 per cent cuts in such benefits as veterans' benefits.

Grady said the Panama Canal, in his opinion, is non-negotiable and there should be no attempt to draft a new treaty. He charged Chiles had voted against a bill in

Stone hears complaints

U. S. Senator Richard Stone had some bad news, heard some bad news and just might have gotten a good idea, all affecting people living and working in the Glades, when he met several residents last Thursday.

During the meeting at the Holiday Inn, Stone munched on Lake Okechobee catfish and heard a number of complaints on restrictions on the use of pesticides but offered little hope. The Environmental Protection Agency's ban could be removed in the near future.

He brought in news that may affect applications the city is making for federal funding to help build a new sewage treatment plant, a new city hall and a new fire station.

Stone also promised to look into abuses of college grants and said Dr. Joseph Orsenigo of the Florida Sugar Cane League may have given him the ammunition he needs to make a new sugar act possible.

"You may have given me the handle I need to get something started," Stone said when Orsenigo told him how foreign sugar producers have "tricked" him by selling raw sugar to the United States for prices lower than the price of raw sugar at home. The senator explained that Congress has already put a stop to such practices, called "dumping" as it applies to automobiles, by outlawing the importation of Japanese cars, for instance, unless the price of those cars is at least as high as the price charged in Japan. "Dumping is already considered a practice we have the right to put a stop to," Stone said. "The foreign producers would have two alternatives. They'd have to lower the price sugar at home, in which case we've helped their citizens at no cost to ourselves, or they'd have to raise the price of sugar they import to the U. S., which would help the American sugar industry."

Blowout puts truck in canal

A blown-out front tire resulted in the wreck of a heavy dumptruck Friday afternoon but the driver, Jessie Martin, 33, of Boynton Beach, only received a scratch on one arm as he and his truck went into the roadside canal just east of Florida Sugar Refinery on SR80. Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Hal Murphy said Martin was unable to hold the loaded dumptruck on the road after his left front tire was shredded by the blowout.

Federal funds sought for construction

City hall, fire station plans near end

A proposed new fire station came a step closer to reality Monday night when the Belle Glade City Commission found plans and specifications are expected to be ready to go to bid the latter part of this week.

Belle Glade architect Chester Cone said the fire station plans are just about completed and plans for the proposed city hall are about 30 days away from completion. The commissioners said bids on the fire station should be opened on Dec. 2. The commissioners instructed Acting City Manager Frank Anderson to go ahead with plans to apply for a federal EDA (Economic Development Administration) loan to pay for the fire station, along with another one for the city hall, although the fire station application isn't expected to bear fruit.

Community Development Director George Gartner said Tuesday he would be submitting applications in the amounts of $250,000 for the fire station and $750,000 for the city hall Tuesday, the first day EDA grants may be applied for.

Another grant, in the amount of $1 million, is also being prepared by Barker, Osha and Anderson, the city's engineers, for a proposed new package sewer treatment plant.)

Cone, who is designing the two buildings, warned the commissioners that the estimated cost of the construction would be increased by approximately 25 per cent if they are built partially with federal funds because of the difference between federal and state wage scales.

In other business, the commissioner expressed doubt they would be able to help a group of citizens petitioning them to withdraw a building permit for a four-unit two story apartment building on the 500 block of Southwest Third Street.

Catherine Washington, an attorney representing the protesting residents, asked the commissioners to do anything they could, including changing the zoning from R-2, which allows the construction to R-1, which allows on single-family residences.

Cleanup starts

A trophy is being offered the man, woman or child who comes up with a winning slogan for the Belle Glade Beautification Committee's Beautification Week coming up Nov. 8. Contestants are being asked to complete an entry blank so they can win a trophy, you think will inspire local residents to improve the city of Belle Glade and make it a cleaner and prettier town.

Committee member Leslie Strickland said the entries should be ten words or less. She said contestants may enter as many entries as they wish in the contest.

Entry blanks are available at Royal's Department Store in Glades Plaza, the Belle Glade Post Office and the Belle Glade Municipal Library. The offices of the West Palm Beach. It replaces a structure built in 1950.

COC headquarters agreement reached

A tentative agreement was reached Monday night that the city will build a new home for the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce in McDonald Park and rent it to the Chamber for $150 a month until it's paid for. The agreement came during a workshop meeting between the city commission and several members of the Chamber. The commission's agreement to build and rent the building culminated more than a year's informal talks.

The general consensus was that the Chamber should pay $150 a month rent until the building is paid for, then the rent will become "nominal," at a rate to be agreed upon at that time. The directors and commissioners estimated it will take some 20 years to pay off the new chamber home, which will have an estimated cost of $35,000.

Conner to highlight banquet

Doyle Conner, commissioner of agriculture, will be in the Glades for two days next week as the main speaker at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce annual awards banquet and to dedicate the Reid Clifton Building in Pahokee.

The Chamber banquet will take place at Belle Glade Elks Lodge 1716. One of the primary events of the social season, the banquet features the naming of the Chamber Man of the Year, Policeman of the Year and the Agribusinessman of the Year. Tickets for the banquet are now on sale at $10 each at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

One of the people due to be on hand is Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth, the person the chamber chose last year as the first Woman of the Year to receive the annual award. Robert C. Lee, vice president of U. S. Sugar Corp., will be the master of ceremonies.

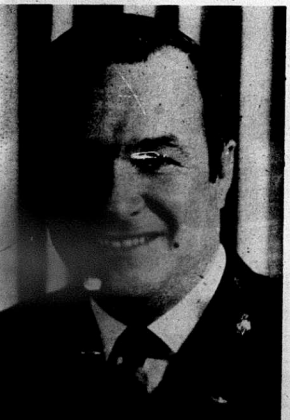

The dedication of the Reid Clifton Building, new headquarters for the Pahokee detachment of Florida Highway Patrol Troop I, will take place at 10 a.m. the morning after the chamber banquet.

Members of the cabinet, other state, county and city officials are expected to attend the ceremony according to Troop I Commander, Capt. W. B. Oliver.

The 1976 Legislature unanimously passed a special act designating the facility as the Reid Clifton Building. Col. Clifton started his law enforcement career in Pahokee as a city policeman and wound up as director of the state patrol.

He retired in 1972 after 32 years of service and is now insurance safety coordinator in the Department of Insurance.

The modern new building houses the FHP district station, commanded by Sgt. George Price, and the driver license office, served by supervisor Fred Davis and an examining team from

Commissioner Doyle Conner

Bazaar planned

Women of St. John's Episcopal Church work on crafts items due to go on sale Saturday, Nov. 20 at the annual bazaar. Working on the hand-made articles are Mrs. Jeff Threlkeld, Mrs. Ed McGee, Mrs. June Patton, Mrs. E. G. Sizemore and Mrs. Mel Sheean. Mrs. McGee and Mrs. Sizemore are co-chairing the event. As usual, the ladies will also offer baked goods, canned goods and a luncheon from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

the Senate which would have made the treaty non-negotiable. Chile pointed out that a Republican President had been negotiating treaty changes at the time the bill came up. He pointed out that the Senate's function isn't to negotiate treaties but to advise and consent to treaties negotiated by the Executive branch. He pointed out also that a single "satchel charge" thrown by a Panamanian worker into one of the locks could shut down the canal. Grady saved his biggest broadsides against Chile for his votes in Defense Spending. He said Chile had voted against the B-1 bomber, the Trident Submarine and had left the United States number two in defense. Chile responded he had voted with Congress to pass President Ford's defense budget this year intact, giving him more than he asked for. He said Grady was misinformed about his votes on the bomber, which he said he had supported in every vote, and the Trident, which he said he supported but hadn't supported an extra appropriation which would have speeded up research and development of the submarine system.

He said he agreed with President Ford that America is still number one in the world militarily. Grady said he was "astounded" at Chile's response, saying the Soviet Union is stronger on land, sea and air.

"(They) have 4 million men in their Army," Grady said, "while we have 2 million. On land, they outnumber us 3 to 1 in artillery, 2 to 1 in armored vehicles and 6 to 1 in tanks. They outnumber us at sea, 2 to 2 in surface ships and 4 to 1 in submarines. The Soviet Union has us in air superiority 6 to 1 in fighter planes and 2 to 1 in bombers. They outnumber us in offensive weapons. They have an overwhelming superiority in nuclear weapons and delivery systems."

Stone visits

He warned, however, that another sugar act would be "extremely hard to get. He said the industry would have to unite in what it wants, that the wants are needs and not an attempt to get greedy or rip off the American consumer, then convince Congress of all those things. "But if that was good news, there was also bad, some that the senator brought with him. That was connected with EDA (Economic Development Administration) funds Belle Glade is applying for to help pay for a new $1 million package sewer plant along with a new city hall and fire station. Stone said there was a strong possibility Belle Glade wouldn't be in position to get any of those funds because part of the formula, as worked out and announced by Elliott Richardson, Secretary of Commerce, the EDA's parent department, is based on the total number of unemployed. He said he felt the determinant should be the percentage of unemployment. He said he and Senator Lawton Chiles have already fired off letters to that effect. An EDA spokesman in Atlanta said the total number of unemployed is given a total weight of 30 points in the applications while the unemployment rate (percentage) is given 25 points. The other two major factors are the cost and wages in the area (30 points) and per capita income (15 points). The unemployment rate in the Glades over the months of June, July and August, the months to be considered, averages out to 12.2 per cent, considerably higher than the 7.5 per cent national average. Other factors which enter into the formula include the long term benefits of the project in question, whether a general purpose unit of government is making the application if the project is a part of long range plans. Agricultural pesticides, and their banning by the EPA, however, took up most of the discussion time given by Stone during the meeting. Orsenigo and Thomas "Doc" Carpenter of South

Card party planned

Hospital Auxiliary member Shari Lohmann adjusts a flower on a centerpiece arrangement as Mrs. Jo Knight and Mrs. Theo Dooley watch as they prepare for a card party and dessert Saturday. Proceeds from the card party are to go toward financing the Auxiliary's scholarship fund.

The centerpieces, one to a table, will be offered as prizes at the party. Table reservations are available by calling Mrs. Katherine Price at 996-2659, Mrs. Bee Wood at 996-3637 or Mrs. Lohmann at 996-6483.

Glades Day loses to Orlando Trinity

Norbert Seals, an all-state runningback for Orlando Trinity last year, piled up 179 yards in 26 carries, earning two touchdowns along the way, to pull Trinity ahead of Glades Day School, 20-6. Besides losing the game, Glades Day had more bad news by losing the services of quarterback Jorge Echave, when he broke his left leg below the knee, even while piling up the most yards rushed for the night. Echave ran ten times for 84 yards for the Gators, saying anything because scoring once on a 36-yard run might ban your run for the Gators' only six points of the night but "was hit high and low in the fourth quarter, putting him out for the rest of the season in both football and basketball. Mitch Crissman ran 13 times for 64 yards and Kenny Buckner ran eight times for 20 yards. Echave completed one of seven attempted passes, good for 11 yards to Dick Crockett. Tommy Duda didn't connect on any of his three passing attempts. On defense, Danny Kirchman led with nine tackles, two assists and one fumble recovery.

Kenny Buckner followed Duda's lead with seven tackles, seven assists and another fumble recovery, followed by Basil Markham with seven tackles and four assists. Tim Burke made one interception and Winston Byrd recovered still another fumble. Trinity scored first on a 42-yard fumble return, made by Mike Hansen. Hansen's score was followed by Echave's and Seals' two carries. Seals carried the ball in to score once from the five yard line and again from the 50. Orlando outruled the Gators by a total of 256 yards to Glades Day's 190 but the Gators had the only completed pass, good for 11 yards in the air. Orlando picked up 16 first downs and the Gators made 12 and the panhandles were fairly even, with the Gators being penalized 75

Punchless Raiders bow 36-7 to Miami Killian

Eli Martin's 95-yard kick-off return provided the Glades Central Raiders their only highlight of the night Friday as they lost their fifth football game of the 1976 season to Miami Killian, 36-7.

That 17-second play, measured from the time the Killian player put his boot into the ball until Martin crossed the goal-line, represented the only time during the night the Raiders crossed the mid-field stripe into Cougar territory.

The kickoff came midway through the fourth quarter, following Killian's third TD.

Martin caught the ball on the left side of his own five-yard line, avoided would-be tacklers and picked up blocking at the center of the field.

By the time he had moved to the Raider sideline, Martin had outstripped all but two defenders and turned on the speed to outrun those two, turning to taut them with an outstretched hand when he reached the ten-yard line.

Joe Zawadzki added the extra point and the Raiders were trailing, 22-7 by 6:25 left in the third period. It was the only threat Glades Central made to Killian during the night.

Martin's runback was especially gratifying because it was in so much contrast to the mistakes, errors and mishandling of the ball in virtually every other punt-kicking return situation they faced in the game.

The Cougars kept the Raiders deep in their own territory through the entire game with the exception of Martin's runback, largely through the Cougar kicking game and the mistakes made by the Raider receivers.

The Cougars' confidence in their kicking game was demonstrated when play resumed after the half, having the option to receive, Killian chose to kick off again to the Raiders.

"I was very dissatisfied with the performance Friday," Raider coach Willie McDonald said Monday. "We have a lot to work on this week (before the away game against the Boca Raton Bobcats) and I have a few things to say to the team."

Anthony Seymore proved to be one of the problems McDonald won't have to worry about in practice sessions for the Boca Raton game. Seymore suffered a pinched nerve in his shoulder but when he was carried to a hospital in Miami during the game, it was feared he had a broken collar bone or a dislocated shoulder.

McDonald said Seymore will be playing with a brace in the games left this season but he will be playing.

The Cougars struck early as they scored on the fourth play in their first offensive series after the Raiders were forced to punt on fourth and 11 from their own five-yard line and Killian took the punt on the Raider 33.

The score came on a sweep around left end from the Raider ten and the Cougars led, 7-0 with 8:28 left in the first quarter.

On the next series of plays, the Raiders took the kickoff on their own 19, moved the ball to their 41 yard line and punted out to their own 46 after a penalty moved the ball back to their 36.

Although the Raider offense was unable to generate any threats against Killian, the defense held through most of the rest of the first half until late in the second quarter.

The Cougars scored again after a series of plays which started on a punt return to the Raider 45. A two-point conversion attempt was good and Killian led the Raiders, 15-0 with 3:04 in the first half.

With only seconds remaining in the first half, another Cougar threat was averted when Cephas Knowles intercepted a pass in his own end zone and ran the ball back to his own five. The half ended one play later.

The Raiders' offensive high tide of the night, except for Martin's runback, came shortly after the second half kickoff. Unable to move the ball on the kickoff series, Glades Central punted out and the ball was returned to their 47 yard line by the Cougars.

The Cougars drove the ball back down to the Glades Central 34, where they fumbled and the Raiders recovered. An Edgar Arnett pass was good to Ollie Sheppard at the 40, Martin bucked through the line to the Raider 43, the 45 and 46, adding a first down in the process. In three plays and David Robinson added three more yards to his 49.

A second Arnett pass was incomplete, however, and Ken Funderburk punted the ball away on fourth down, and still in his own territory.

Anthony Jones with four tackles and two assists.

That 37-yard punt was the best one up to that point for the Raiders. It also set up the only scoring punt return by the Cougars as the ball was picked up on the Killian 14 and ran it down the Raider sideline for an 86-yard strike, setting up the sole Raider score of the night.

Killian scored again with 1:56 left in the third quarter, following a drive from the Raider 49-yard line, bringing the score to 29-7 and again with 27 seconds left in the game. Glades Central picked up a total of 79 yards rushing and 29 passing compared to 203 yards the Cougars made on the ground and another 123 in the air.

All three Raider quarterbacks were used in the game and combined their abilities for a total of four passes completed out of 22 attempts. The Killian quarterbacks passed 15 times, completed eight and had one intercepted.

Both teams fumbled the ball twice. The Raiders punted 11 times for an average of 33 yards and Killian punted six times and averaged 40 yards.

The Raiders were penalized 129 yards and the Cougars were penalized 75 yards.

Linebacker Phillip Stinson led the Raider defense with ten tackles and two assists, followed by Calude Brown with nine tackles and one assist, Don Andrews with eight assists, including three sacks of the Cougar quarterback.

Linebacker Cephas Knowles with seven tackles, two assists and an interception. Joe Rodriguez with six tackles and two assists.

Anthony Jones with four tackles and two assists.

Raiders to be placed in new district

The Glades Central Raiders will be placed in another district when the football season takes the field next year, according to head coach Willie McDonald.

McDonald said the Raiders will be placed in a district with Jupiter and Okeechobee High Schools next year.

The other team in this year's District 14-AAA, Cardinal Newman, will be placed in a district including North Shore and Suncoast High Schools.

McDonald said this means the Raiders will be required to play Okeechobee and Jupiter and must beat them to advance to the regional playoffs at the end of the year.

DATeline HISTORY

By JEROME TURK AND WM. D. ELLIS

FT. TICONDEROGA ON LAKE CHAMPLAIN, Oct. 14, 1776 — Gen'l Benedict Arnold's little navy on Lake Champlain has been blasted and scattered. Yet he may have won.

Although our casualties amount to about 80 men and Brig. Gen'l David Waterbury, Arnold's second in command, and two boat crews have been captured, a pair of defeats on this lake may amount to an American victory.

The British under Gen'l Guy Carleton could now be discouraged about penetrating deeper from Canada and postpone any further invasion efforts until next year. Gen'l Arnold, his 500 men and 15 home-made boats have given America precious time.

Three mornings ago at 8 o'clock, we peered lakeward south of Valcour Island and first saw the head of the formidable column of British ships.

Arnold's force had been lying hidden and waiting behind the island for more than two weeks but we were, shame to say, surprised.

Gen'l Arnold had no prior intelligence of the attack due to an unfortunate accident which destroyed his canoes and prohibited sending out scouting parties.

The silent string of enemy vessels was long — an 18-gun ship, inflexible, a snow, three schooners, two sloops and 20 small gunboats. There were even more vessels carrying troops, farther north.

Some of Arnold's officers counseled a run for the south. But the short, muscular New Haven druggist felt if he could entice the British into the narrow channel behind Valcour, they could not, bring their guns to bear in close quarters.

Arnold sent his schooner, Royal Savage (captured last year at St. John), and four row galleys out in plain view of the enemy. Instantly, the British came about into severe headwinds.

Unfortunately, poor handling of Royal Savage drove her aground after inflexible had put three balls into her. The British fleet then entered the narrow channel and Arnold watched his strategy succeed — at first. The enemy fleet was stopped from maneuvering by the wind and current.

However, the British commander, a veteran Royal Navy man no doubt, ordered 17 gunboats to lower sail and row. They came ahead firing with devastating effect.

On Congress, Gen'l Arnold ran from gun to gun, pointing each for his inexperienced crew (the man is superb in action). He received blistering fire, too. I counted 17 hits on his vessel, but Congress nevertheless somehow stayed afloat. The gunboat Philaedephia was sunk.

The enemy put a large number of Indians aboard, and Congress and harassed us with musket balls in the battle which lasted until nightfall. At 7 p.m., 13 of Arnold's vessels, battered and leaking, escaped southward.

Yesterday the British caught up with us about ten miles from Crown Point. Congress, with Arnold aboard, and Washington, with Waterbury in command, were sailing in the rear of the column to protect the others. Quickly pounded and shattered, Washington struck its colors and surrendered.

The British ships crunched through the foundering American boats, raking every vessel with accurately aimed guns. Surrounded by seven enemy ships, Congress, sails in tatters, rigging in shreds, four men killed, was run aground and burned by Arnold. All but three of the original 15 vessels were destroyed or captured.

Together with the crews of three gondolas (including me), Arnold reached Crown Point through the dense woods last evening. Fearing enemy pursuit (especially the British-led savages who were plying the southward on foot again.

As we were leaving Crown Point, I saw a familiar round silhouette against the flames. It was Turk in the company of another boat crew. Crippling wet, he came jogging up to us with a smile on his powder-blackened face.

"Our crew sank a boatload of Hessians!" he bragged, falling into step and chattering gaily — like we weren't a miserable, hungry, sodden, defeated and hunted remnant of Benedict Arnold's navy.

"Defeat!" Turk snorted. "Benedict Arnold has won! He's won us time — six months of blessed time. And you and I were a part of it, lad!" he chuckled.

It took until 4 a.m. this morning, when we arrived at this fort and threw ourselves on the ground in exhaustion, for my colleague's words to sink in.

Hibiscus comes in many varieties

Few Floridians do not enjoy the beauty of the hibiscus flower, and many people do not realize the tremendous variety of hibiscus colors that exist here in South Florida. We have well over a thousand different colors of hibiscus available and very few individuals come into contact with more than a dozen or two.

Hibiscus give flowers continuously throughout the year and even though the bloom lasts but one day you always seem to have an abundance of flowers to enjoy.

For the novice you will find that growing hibiscus is as easy as growing any of the other shrubs in your landscape if you follow a few basic requirements.

Hibiscus like full sun if possible and should not be planted in heavy shade or they will get quite spindly and not flower very abundantly.

They also like rich, well-drained soils which we have few of as it is necessary to amend the soil before you plant your hibiscus. Such amendments as peat, moss, compost, manure or other organic materials will greatly add to the organic content of the soil and enable your plant to grow much more successfully than if you put nothing in the planting hole with it.

Hibiscus have a few insect and disease problems but usually these are of a minor nature and are easily controlled with most of our common insecticides and fungicides that you use on the other ornamental plants in your landscape.

Hibiscus are very rapid growers and require pruning two or three times a year to keep them bushy and attractive. Hibiscus are commonly used as hedge plants or as an accent or single specimen in the landscape. Many of the newer hybrids are grafted which enables them to be longer lived and grow a little bit better. Most of the local nurseries have a variety of hibiscus plants available to the public and a few nurseries that specialize in hibiscus carry some of the more unusual or rare varieties.

People who would like to see a fine hibiscus show will have the opportunity this month on Sunday, October 24, from 1 to 5 p.m. The Sunrise Chapter of the Hibiscus Society will be sponsoring their annual hibiscus show in the Hibiscus Dining Room of Burdine's Department Store, 405 Clematis Street, West Palm Beach. Admission to this show is free and there will be many hundreds of beautiful flowers on display. Judging from past shows attendance at this one will be outstanding.

Senior citizens gifts hoped for

Recipients of a program designed to provide hot meals for senior citizens in the Belle Glade area will also receive Thanksgiving and Christmas gifts if Mrs. Margaret Dutenhoeffer has anything to say about it.

The local program, part of the Palm Beach County Nutrition Program, now provides free hot meals for an average of 30 senior citizens during the afternoons at the Glades Central Annex. Mrs. Dutenhoeffer said she hopes to have a total of 55 persons enrolled in the near future. She said there is another program she also administers in Pahokee at the Fremd Village Day Care Center.

Mrs. Dutenhoeffer said she is looking for donations of canned goods, clothing, toilet articles and the like to provide a little more holiday spirit for the senior citizens. Anyone who wishes to donate may contact her at 996-7659.

"The Nutrition Program provides one nutritious meal per day," Mrs. Dutenhoeffer said, "and such activities as planned recreation, speakers, films, entertainment, health and welfare counseling, nutrition education and transportation to and from the centers for persons sixty years of age and older and their spouses."

The program operates five days per week throughout the year and no fee is charged for these services, although contributions are encouraged.

Mrs. Dutenhoeffer said the program does not affect welfare, food stamps or Social Security participants may be receiving.

Breath of Life campaign nearly completed

The local Cystic Fibrosis "Breath of Life" Campaign is entering its last few days, according to the Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club president, Mrs. Gene Farley.

"The campaign will end October 24th," Mrs. Farley said. "The goals of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation are simple," she explained. "They are simply: to find a control or cure for the inherited disease Cystic Fibrosis, while improving diagnosis and treatment of children suffering from serious lung-damaging diseases."

"Every parent," she continued, "knows about colds in the chest, when children cough for a few days or a week. But long-term, chronic, or recurrent coughing and wheezing may be signs of serious, even crippling lung disease. If parents are aware of this possibility, prompt action can cure them and bring relief for all."

Mrs. Farley noted that the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation helps with research into all crippling lung diseases, not just CF alone.

"We have only some 20

"Breath of Life" campaign

volunteers to reach this community of more than 18,000 people. We simply cannot get in touch with everyone to ask for help, so we are asking for donations to be made out to the

Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, and mailed to Mrs. Gene

Farley, 848 S. E. 3rd Street,

Belle Glade. Mrs. Farley pointed out that since the campaign is being conducted through a volunteer help, every penny donated will go toward helping Cystic Fibrosis sufferers and toward further research into the causes and cures of chronic lung diseases.

Opinion

THOUGHTS OF CHAIRMAN MAO'S WIDOW,

Whose interest?

It's a shame when a lawmaker votes the wrong way on a piece of legislation, not because he's been convinced it's the right way to go but because public opinion forces his hand.

But that was the spectre raised by U. S. Senator Richard Stone when he came to Belle Glade last week and heard complaints from experts on the capricious demands of the Environmental Protection Agency when it comes to pesticides, or from other agencies when public health is involved.

Like the tenderizing agent the EPA wanted banned because it might cause cancer. Never mind that to ingest enough DES for it to become a carcinogen, a person would have to wolf down 50,000 earbuds of beef.

Nobody wants to cast, in public view, a vote for cancer.

Or like the single case of swine flu reported at Ft. Dix, New Jersey which will eventually cost the American public hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Nobody wants to vote for an epidemic. One of the first victims could be the job he's worked for so hard.

That form of reasoning shouldn't be required to keep an office. Sure, no one wants to leave a legacy to their grandchildren of a landscape stripped by miners and blighted by polluted rivers and smog-shrouded cities. Nobody wants to put foodstuffs on the market that cause cancer or allow epidemics to decimate the country because of lack of preparation.

But it's time same research should be used as the basis for reasons, not panic brought on by a lack of understanding.

Because someday there could be a panic caused by the very real possibility that without the pesticides banned by the EPA, without the ability to use fertilizer, we're not going to have anything with which to stock the nation's supermarkets. And that'll be a panic worth worrying about.

Good debate

When it comes to political debates, Floridians can at least be thankful they don't have the "instant sleep" variety produced for national consumption.

Whatever else can be said about the Grady-Chiles Show (might as well give top billing to the hometown personality), it was lively, just as we'd forecast.

We won't even attempt to decide which of the two campaigners came out ahead in the first-ever state-wide debate because we haven't the expertise to do it ourselves nor the time to run any kind of a meaningful survey.

But the overall winner is going to be the Florida voter. If that voter now goes to the polls Nov. 2 with no idea about hard issues such as the Panama Canal, defense spending, abortion, the Sunshine Law and a balanced budget, it's no fault of the candidates.

Their views on different issues came throughout loud and clear without the filtration of editors and rewrite men. Not only did their words come across, but the emphasis and emphasis is something the print media of necessity weeds out of any statements made by candidates.

On the other hand, if either Grady or Chiles takes a verbal pratfall (we noticed none Tuesday but there is still one debate to go) it's right there for everyone, to see, with no sympathetic editors to obscure the vision.

This is the way debates should be run and we believe they're a healthy phenomenon in a time when large numbers of voters don't trust their political leaders.

We're looking forward to the next one.

Letter to the editor

Sir:

The United States Postal Service was made a quasi-government corporation in 1970. The law which established this corporation gave it authority to unionize the same as private industry, with one exception - the right to strike.

The National Labor Agreement, which started immediately with the corporate structure, has provisions which are above and beyond anything in the private sector, such as no layoff. Also, when labor disagrees with management's decisions, management cannot act. The decisions must go to arbitration, etc.

THE POSTAL SERVICE IS RESPONSIBLE TO NO ONE FOR ITS EXPENDITURES. ANY DEFICIT MUST BE PAID BY THE TAXPAYERS. The salary structure which the U. S. Postal Service set for itself for management and labor have a ceiling of $63,000. A large number of management officers receive salaries which far exceed those of Senators and Congressmen. The Post Office labor force receives salaries which far exceed those for government employees. PRIOR TO THE FORMATION OF THE POSTAL CORPORATION, THESE WERE COMPARABLE.

Overstaffing and idle hours in the Postal Service is now a way of life. The law requires eight hours work for eight hours' pay in other agencies.

The union contract which the Postal Service negotiates with itself supersedes the law of our land. The financial problems in the Postal Service have been created because of this labor agreement. EXCESSIVE INCREASE IN POSTAGE HAS CAUSED A DECREASE IN MAIL VOLUME. Many of the major users are now finding alternate means in lieu of paying this price. The no-layoff provision in the contract leaves a fixed number work force with a decrease in mail volume. POSTAL EMPLOYEES RECEIVE HIGH PAY FOR DOING NOTHING. Unless the situation equals the workload decreases, the imbalance between the manhours and the workload will continue. The no-layoff clause does not permit management to reduce the work force to correct the imbalance. An effective work measurement system has been eliminated, and each office is permitted to set its own work standards which supports this type of imbalance. EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY IN THE OPERATION OF THE POSTAL SERVICE UNDER THIS LABOR AGREEMENT ARE IMPOSSIBLE.

The upper management of the Postal Service has committed various acts to shield this truth from the public. Hearings before the subcommittee of the Congress when properly reviewed will clearly identify the fabrications. How can Congress or the President ignore this when conduct of a similar nature in the Executive Branch of the government brought about the removal of the President of this Nation.

The investigative arm of the Congress, known as the General Accounting Office, has presented reports and testimony which are absolute fabrications. Documents proving these fabrications are in the hands of Congress. For Congress to use these reports while in the process of preparing legislation laws to govern this Nation is a damnable act. The need to refer this to the Justice Department for an in-depth probe is of the utmost importance if our government and the nation's business is to function properly. The Board of Governors, the Postmaster, the entire upper management of the United States Postal Service should be held responsible and accountable for the multi-billion dollar waste which they and they alone are responsible for.

I invite everyone interested in an efficient U. S. Postal Service to write their Congressmen and make their views known.

Carlton G. Beall
(Former Postmaster, Washington, D. C., retired)

Among the greatest things parents can give their children, most psychologists agree, are themselves. They and his and/or her conscience. But anybody who thinks it's all that simple hasn't sat in on one of several gabfests on the subject here at The Herald.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

What is it? I don't know what it is, Roy Clark don't know what it is. That professor from Indiana don't know what it is and now we know that not even the Sooprem Court of the United States knows that is it.

Miss Paula Grossman, formerly known as Paul Grossman, claims she knows what it is because she says she is it but the school board where she taught in Bernards Township, N.J. say they don't know what it is and furthermore they said they're afraid that whatever it is it too bad to teach their children music.

But if I don't know what it is, I ain't too sure what difference it makes either. On the other hand, Bernards Township is a right smart piece removed from Belle... and so is Grossman, whatever Grossman is.

Grossman, Mr., Miss or Mrs. (or Ms. for that matter) or whatever, depending on who's doing the addressing, is a transsexual. He had an operation she recovered from real nicely, thank you.

Only trouble is the Bernards Township school board hasn't recovered yet. They fired Grossman because they said the whole situation, "might cause psychological harm to her students."

So here come de judge and he sez, senze, that he ain't about to set a precedent by determining what her present sex is and that don't matter now because the whole point wasn't that she's a woman now but how she became one.

Now, I allus figured that whatever a person wants to do to or with hers or his body was strictly between him and/or her and his and/or her conscience.

But anybody who thinks it's all that simple hasn't sat in on one of several gabfests on the subject here at The Herald.

I never heard such a commotion about what someone several hundred miles away decided was fitten and proper.

Like I said, I figger it's up to him or her if a person wants to change his or her sex. Mind you now, I ain't too sure I'd want my sister to marry one-course that'd be bigamy anyway. They're already married.

But to listen to some people, you'd get the idea people like Grossman are worse than someone who's committed hibachery (for those who don't know, that's slapping a sick duck in the rear with a wet towel and that's just about as horrendous a crime as you can get.)

I always thought the legalities of the situation could get downright interesting. I imagine I'd want my sister to get a divorce.

The marriage vow do say for better or for worse and in sickness and in health but it don't say sex change do us part.

Matter of fact, I've never heard anything about them but they oughta be some interesting legalities involved in a divorce between a natural woman and a transsexual.

Like which mother gets custody of the kids? And do the parents who don't have to pay child support and alimony?

Matter of fact, I don't believe I've even heard of any prearrangements handed down from the National Organization of Women on the matter. Would a "new" woman be a "NOW" woman? Would the ERA apply?

But at any rate, wouldn't it be fun for the kid who could blow his friends' minds with the comment that he was related to his half-brothers and half-sisters because his mother was their father?

Farm Front

If we produced today's food supply with the techniques available at the time of World War I, we would need seven times as many farm workers as about 31 million instead of today's 4.4 million.

One person out of three in today's urban labor force would need to leave his job and go back to farming. The present products and services produced by that one out of three would be lost.

We would need 20 times as many today. Just to raise that many horses and mules, even with an all-out breeding effort, would take nearly 20 years. Then, it would take 180 million acres of land to raise horse and mule feed. That's half as many acres as we planted to crops last year. It's about twice the U.S. acreage that grew crops for export last year. People around the world would be starving while our horses and mules ate.

People in the United States would not be eating very well, nor nearly as cheaply either. The labor costs alone for raising potatoes, for instance, would be nearly 50 per cent more than farmers now get for potatoes.

To get the nitrogen necessary for today's yields would require farmers to grow and plow down large acreages of nitrogen-producing legumes. That would take 140 million acres, and that much less land available to grow grain crops.

The combination of 180 million acres for horse feed and 140 million to produce nitrogen would total 320 million acres. That is equal to the entire amount of harvested cropland in the United States in 1973.

In short, trying to produce today's food needs with World War I techniques would be a catastrophe for the nation. This tells us something about the task ahead. If we don't make even more remarkable agricultural progress in the next 50 to 60 years, the people of that time will be engulfed in an even greater catastrophe.

Our country is blessed with a good agricultural climate, ample resources distributed from one end of the nation to the other, and a large acreage of good farmland. But these assets are finite — they are not growing, population is.

If we are going to maintain our affluence — or increase it — we must somehow make our farm acreage more productive to keep up with the growth in population and demand.

Local men to attend meeting

At least four officers of the Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau will be attending the annual Florida Farm Bureau Federation in Kissimmee to hear former Secretary of Agriculture Earl Buttz.

The convention, due to take place at the Orlando Hyatt House Oct. 23-26 was scheduled to feature Buttz as the main speaker although he has since been forced to resign because of an off-color joke.

"We are honored to have a man of Mr. Buttz' caliber attend our convention," commented Walter J. Kautz, FFBF president.

Buttz will deliver the keynote address at 11 a.m. Oct. 23. Other speakers include Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner, Mrs. Gordon White, chairman of the American Farm Bureau Women, southern region; Ken Cheatham of American Farm Bureau's program development staff; Dr. Paul Becton, director of Bruchiosis Activity for USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service; Carol Chalkoupa, Texas Farm Bureau president and Kautz.

More than 800 members of the Farm Bureau are expected to attend; including Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau President Robert Stokes, Secretary Clarence Pate and board members Robert Simonson and Dale Erickson.

ASC Committee nominations will close soon

Only a few days remain to nominate farmers as candidates in the upcoming ASC Community Committee elections according to Fritz Stein, chairman of the Palm Beach County ASC Committee. The first duty of the newly elected community committee members will be to serve as delegates to elect new members to the county

ASC committee. The ASC community committee election will be conducted by mail from Nov. 26 to Dec. 6. By turning in a total of five or more petitions, farmers in each ASC community have the opportunity to prepare the slate of nominees themselves.

Shortly after November 1, all petitions will be reviewed. If five or more valid petitions have been received from an ASC community, the county ASC office will prepare a slate containing the names of eligible nominees. If less than five valid petitions are received for any ASC community, the job of slate completion will be turned over to the incumbent community committee, which will add nominees to complete the slate.

The county ASC committee will review all community slates prior to the mail election and will advise all candidates of the duties of an ASC committee member.

In order to submit a valid petition, three or more ASC farm voters must sign a statement endorsing an eligible candidate. The statement must include certification that the nominee will serve if elected.

Petitions must be dated and mailed or hand-delivered to the county ASC office no later than Nov. 1.

Man caught with two thousand feet of illegal alligator hides in possession

TALLAHASSEE—Would-be alligator poachers should heed the lesson learned this week by a Central Florida man who thought he could beat the system, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission advised.

The man, Murry Helien of Zolfo Springs, was arrested and 2,470 feet of illegal alligator hides seized in an investigation of illegal taking and possession of alligator hides which started earlier this year.

O. E. Frye, Commission director, said Helien had been in possession of the illegal hides for some time but had been unable to dispose of the stored product because of state and federal laws which prohibit the possession and sale.

Frye said perhaps the man was holding them in hopes of being able to unload them on either the Louisiana or Florida market.

"But," Frye said, "there is simply no way an illegal hide can be placed on the legal market in Louisiana or in the proposed Florida alligator control system."

Alligator poachers who view Florida's proposed control program as an opportunity for a quick dollar by sale of illegal hides are in for a big surprise and a trip to jail, the director continued. Both programs require each individual alligator be identified prior to and during skinning operation.

Frye warned would-be poachers they are wasting their time and running a high risk if they hope to unload their illegal hides through legitimate sources.

Helien has been charged with possession of alligator hides with intent to sell and with illegal sale of venison.

Transportation program

An expanded county transportation program for clients of the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS) will require permanent identification cards which may be picked up Friday at the Glade HRS Center.

County Commissioners and HRS officials, who have signed a $120,000 one year contract for the service, announced that up to 25,000 persons may be certified and accommodated under the expanded project.

About 15,999 received free bus tickets during the past year. These tickets will be valid after Nov. 1.

Transportation Authority personnel will receive the authorization cards and issue the permanent, laminated ID cards which bear the clients' photograph.

Those persons certified by the HRS will be able to ride county buses free of charge under the contract. HRS will also absorb costs of the ID cards.

The permanent ID's will be issued at the Belle Glade HRS Service Center in trailer one at 324 N. W. Tenth St. from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday and the same hours Thursday, Oct. 28.

PUTTING THINGS IN the proper place can help keep you safe.

Elite Community Club has meeting

Parents of the prospects for debutantes, escorts and sub-debutantes for the 1976-77 social season were guests of the Elite Community Club Oct. 10 at the Parents' Club held at the Lake Shore Center.

The members of the club surprised club member, Mrs. Thomas Montgomery, by moving up the date of the regular meeting from Sunday to Saturday, showing up en masse at Mrs. Montgomery's new home in Royal Palm Beach with all the equipment for a party.

On Wednesday, Oct. 20, young men who will be escorts, will get acquainted and socialize.

Each of the participants will be given a calendar of activities which the club and other interested citizens, clubs and groups who will sponsor some type of activity for the debs and escorts through June, 1977.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY MOTORISTS

IS IT TIME TO RENEW YOUR AUTO TAG?

The current Florida Statutes provides for the following schedule of tag renewals effective Nov. 1/76.

INDIVIDUAL OWNERS

Your current tag expires the last day of the month preceding your birthday. You have then until your birthday to renew your license tag. Each person has a different renewal period i.e., the 30 days prior to his birthday. The above applies to all vehicles except the three listed below:

MOBILE HOMES - Mobile Home Tags are renewed during January each year.

SEMI-TRACTORS (2nd six month's)

All semi-tractors renewed during renewal period and purchased for five months, expire during the month of November. Decals must be purchased during the month of November for six months, expiring last day of May, (June decal is issued).

COMPANY/CORPORATION OWNED VEHICLES

The current decal expires on 31st day of May, and must be renewed by June 30th., for 12 months.

L TAGS AND CV TAGS

- must be renewed during the month of June for 12 months.

IMPORTANT FACTS:

- You are required to carry your Auto Registration form in your car at all times.
- You will need your Auto Registration when having your Auto Inspected.
- All titles must be presented for transferring within 10 days of purchasing a vehicle or be subject to a $10.00 penalty.
- It is a 2nd degree Misdemeanor to operate, or authorize the operation, over the streets or highways of this State or use for housing accommodations any Motor Vehicle, unless the same is registered according to the laws and registration fee paid.
- When renewing or transferring Auto Registrations, owner's copy must be presented to Tag Agency to verify tag and decal.
